

Professor

Yadelia Leyva
Piano

- Prof. Yadelia Leyva is a professional pianist from Cuba. She began playing the piano at the age of eight and graduated from the highly prestigious National School of Art, in Havana, Cuba.
- Yadelia has performed in multiple capacities as a solo artist and in duets as a vocal and instrumental accompanist. Her career as a Piano Teacher began in 1991 (E.V.A Guantánamo, Cuba) and moved to the United States in 1997. Her 15 years of teaching experience enables her to provide a positive atmosphere for learning, progress and fun for students.
- Mrs. Leyva is an independent Piano Professor offering private lessons for kids (ages 4 and up) and adults at all levels. Students learn theory; solfege, technique, and more, depending on students' needs and interests including a repertoire of their favorite genres: classical, pop, rock, blues and Jazz.
- She is currently an Active Member of the National Guild of Piano Teachers, Teacher Division of American College of Musicians, United States of America, a professor at P.A.C.E (The Parents Association for Christian Enrichment) in Miami, FL., Jammin' Kids International Academy in Weston, FL and a member of the Stage Masters Music Professor's Association.
